Deputy Commissioner Bangalore District No
792 of the 3rd February, 1891

Order thereon No 236-41 C Dated 31 March 1891

The Municipality of Dod Ballapur has made a provision of Rs 120 for the next official year for the purpose of meeting its share of the cost of English Education in the town. A separate English School has generally proved unsatisfactory. It is therefore resolved to provide English teaching in connection with the Taluk Hannada School. The First and Second English standards will be combined with the Third and the Fourth standards respectively of the Taluk School, and only those boys will be allowed to commence the study of English who have been promoted from the second Vernacular Class which is of the Upper Primary Standard. English will be taught from two to three hours every day to such boys of the III and IV classes of the Taluk School as desire to study English and are prepared to pay 8/6 as a monthly school fee. These boys will for the rest of the day learn their Vernacular as a language, and the subjects of (1) Arithmetic (2) Geography and History and (3) Hygiene or Agriculture up to the standard of the Local Examination for pupils in their own Vernacular. Boys wishing to learn English will be incurred the Taluk School fee of one anna, and outsiders or ex-students must rejoin the III or the IV class of the Taluk School, before they can be admitted to the English classes, unless they have already passed the Local Examination for Pupils. The English master will collect the fees for English teaching and pay them into the Treasury to the credit of the Municipal funds as at present in the case of the separate Municipal English Schools. Three-fourths of the cost of English teaching will be borne by the Municipality and one-fourth by the Government.

2 In accordance with these views an English Master on Rs 15 or 20 a month according to merit may be employed for the I and II Anglo-Vernacular Standards from the 1st April 1891, the services of one or more additional teachers being engaged for the III and IV Anglo-Vernacular standards as the necessity arises. The cost of additional furniture, maps, reference books and of building and repairs, when a separate building is occupied, will be shared equally between the Government and the Municipality.
